Seasonal Environment Chart

Our natural environment surrounds our home environment. Throughout the year, we make changes in the way we interact with our environment.

- Identify how you and your family adapt to environment changes in each of the four seasons.
- Fill in each box below with appropriate diagrams, lists, paragraphs, webs, or cartoons to show how you make yourself comfortable in each season.
- Think about how you meet your needs for food, shelter, clothing, and play.

Section 9.1: What Are Extreme Environments?

Key Question: What are extreme environments?

BEFORE YOU READ

Think about how your needs are being met in your environment. How long does it take you to get a drink of water? Is food available? Do you have clean air to breathe? Is the temperature comfortable for you?

WHILE YOU READ

Create a web, using words and pictures, to explain what an extreme environment is.

Extreme Environment

AFTER YOU READ

Are extreme environments the same for all living things? Explain.
